Dear Mrs. Edwards:

Enclosed are my additions to your list of Herringtons in Perry, Greene, Wayne, and Jones counties. You will notice that I did not fill in much marriage information. I have many names and know more than I listed about relationships among the Herrington men, but I do not have much proof of wives' names. I hope that the dates I added will be of some help.

I am also enclosing a sheet listing names of Stuckey men who were in Perry and Greene counties. You may already have these names, but I thought I'd send them for your reference.

Do you know where you found the date of 1795 for Enoch Herrington's birth? He is my ancestor, and my only birthdate for him came from the 1850 Attala County, MS, census where he said he was 50.

Thank you for the name and address of Lou Herrington. She and I have corresponded, but I need to get back in touch with her. Good luck with your book.

Sincerely,

Sandra E. Boyd

Dear Mrs. Strickland:

My name is Roger D. Herrington, son-in-law of Patricia J. Weeks of Jackson, Mississippi. I am working on the Herrington lineage and looking for any information on Madison Herrington of Jones County (please see the enclosed family group record). Patricia referred me to you. She said you have done extensive research and work on Jones County and may have a vertical file on the Herrington lineage.

If you have any information in vertical file form on Madison Herrington, would you please send me information on how I can obtain a copy of that file. I am willing to send you a money order for the price of copies, plus postage. I have enclosed a SASE for your response.

I am looking forward to hearing from you soon. Thank you for your time and assistance.

Sincerely,

Dear Mrs. Edwards,

I received your information on the Herringtons and I do appreciate it. Some of the older information may come in very handy down the road.

Enclosed is a revised group sheet for the children of William Herrington Jr. I tried for a number of years to connect the A.J. or Allen Joseph Herrington of Jasper County with William Herrington Jr., but it just never fit in with my line of thinking at the time. I looked at the 1820 census a number of times, but I always perceived it to read that William Herrington Jr. had 0 children prior to 1820. After you mentioned that he had 2 children before 1820, I took my ruler and followed the line across and it read just like you said that it did. This solves one more piece of the puzzle.

You also mentioned in your letter about Allen J. Herrington. A.J. or Allen Joseph Herrington was a very common name among the Herrington clan. There were several individuals all about the same age in southeast with that same name. The Allen J. that you mentioned was the son of Samuel of Perry County. The A.J. of Jasper Co. (The J sometimes mistaken for a P on the census) with a wife named Sarah is the Allen Joseph Herrington that I mention above. I also believe that Isaac of Jasper County and Henry of Clarke County also possibly had sons named

Allen Joseph Herrington.

There is another A. J. Herrington and wife Louise C. buried about 1/4 mile west of the Pachuta Exit off I-59 on Hwy #18. I think that the cemetery is in Clarke County but I think the back of the cemetery borders the Jasper - Clarke county line. I have been told that A. J.'s birth date is almost impossible to read but that it appears to be in the 1790s. His death date is listed as March 2, 1861. I can not identify this A. J. Herrington as of yet.

There is a Michael Herrington that appears on the 1850 and later census of Jasper County. He was one of the original Irish Catholics that settled near Paulding in the mid 1840's. Sometime after the Civil War the Irish Catholic Herringtons started spelling their name Ha to distinguish themselves from the Scotch - Irish Presbyterian Herringtons who spelled their name He.

12-15-89

Dear Mrs. Strickland,

I apologize for not writing sooner, but my mother-in-law who is 89 has been sick and has been in and out of the hospital several times in the past several months. My wife has spent a lot of time up there after work, and I have had to fill in for her around the house.

This brought my genealogy work to a near standstill.

I do appreciate the hurricane information and the information on John M. Herrington. The hurricane information fits one more piece of the puzzle together. I think the following information will also add some knowledge to the John M. Herrington line.

A couple of weekends back, I got off down to USM on Saturday afternoon for a couple of hours work on census records. I first went to the 1850 Lauderdale County census and located John M. Herrington, aged 26, and his wife Pheba listed as family #973. Much to my surprise, I found a William Herrington, aged 56, and his wife Cynthia and children listed as family #972. This appeared to me to be father and son living next door to each other.

I then went to the 1860 census of Jones County. Here I found J. M. Herrington and his wife Pheba listed on Page #69 as Family #451. On page #70 I found the older William Herrington and his wife Cynthia listed as Family #457. I found William Myrick and his wife Phoebe Herrington Myrick listed as Family #460. (William C. Herrington was at Haysboro in Harrison County on the 1860 census.)

My Thomas J. Lowe first married Theodosia Ann Herrington, the daughter of William C. Herrington. After the death of his first wife, Thomas J. Lowe then married his first wife's first cousin Anna Jane Myrick. Anna Jane Myrick was the daughter of William Myrick and Phoebe Herrington Myrick. Phoebe Herrington Myrick and William C. Herrington were brother and sister.

From the census records, I then went to H. H. Daniels book - "History of Jones County" and checked the Index to the land grants in Jones County. John M. Herrington got land grant #12714 in Section 31, Township 10, Range 10 in 1855. He also got land grant #13834 in Section #30 and Section #31 of Township 10, Range 10 in 1858.

The elder William Herrington got land grant #10431 in Section #36, Township 10, Range #11 in 1854. William C. Herrington got land grant #10408 in Section #25, Township 10, Range #11 in 1854. William Myrick got land grant #15790 in Section #25, Township 10, Range #11 in 1860.

John M. Herrington's land was in a different Range than that of the above mentioned individuals. However, when you look at these sections on a map, you will see that they either bordered or cornered each other. (See enclosed map.)

As you probably have already guest, I have changed my opinion as to the parents of my William C. Herrington. I am now of the opinion that William Herrington and his wife Cynthia were the parents of William C., John M., Phoebe Herrington Myrick, and possibly of Allen Joseph Herrington of Jasper County. I am also of the opinion that William Herrington, John Herrington, and Isaac Herrington were all brothers. The census records indicate they were all born in North Carolina.

If I can survive 16 more years and manage to retire, I plan to do a lot more documentation work on my lines. I plan to spend the foul weather days where I can't work outside either down at the McCain Library at USM or in a courthouse somewhere.

Please let me know when "Who Married Whom - Jasper County" becomes available for sale. I would like to purchase a copy as soon as it becomes available.

Sincerely yours,

Gerald W. Johnson

Dear Mrs. Strickland,

I am trying to do a little work on my William Casrell (Caswell) Herrington line of Jones County.

According to H. H. Daniel's book on Jones Co., Wm. C. Herrington got land grants in Section 25 & 36 of Township 10, Range 11 of Jones County in 1854. John M. Herrington got a land grant in Section 31 of Township 10, Range 10 in Jones County in 1855. John then got a land grant in section 30 and another land grant in Section 31 of Township 10, Range 10 in 1858. Although William's land and John's land was in different Ranges, the sections in which each owned land did border each other. The Range line divided the sections. (See enclosed map.)

There was an older John Herrington with a wife named Sarah listed on the 1850 census of Harrison Co. (See Family #451) Wm. C. Herrington and his family then appeared at Hansboro in Harrison Co. on the 1860 census. Family history has it that Wm. C. and Miranda lost everything they owned in a hurricane while living at Hansboro, and they then moved back to Jones County. They are listed back in Jones County on the 1870 census (Page 245). I think that the older John Herrington was back in Jones County about the same time as William C., but I am going to need to make a trip down to USM and check the census record to verify this.

Was the older John Herrington the father of John Milton Herrington?

Where can I find some information on John Milton Herrington?

Sincerely yours,
Herald W. Plummer

Yes, Bobbi, you can. I will post what I can to the board to keep us alive, and at the same time will let you help me look over this stuff.

Source of info comes from Parker family - written by Wayne V. Parker, Genealogy Collection..929.2 P238P. These are Drury, Parker, Harrington info. This book can be obtained on inter-library loan to your local library. You, Bobby, would have the most interest.

The ancestry of our cousin Claude Harrington of his father's side is included in this work as this is of interest to our Harrington cousins and to those who are not related. The Parker and Harrington families have been closely associated since 1876.

Short paragraph on Charles Harrington (most of which we know)

Sion Harrington: Lists war records, The house in the Horse Shoe, afterwards called "Retreat" in which he fought is still standing. Documentation. Service, Vol.10, book 14, Hillsboro Treasury Office, Oct 3, 1785. State Records, Census 1790. Chatham county records Book @., page 204 and many others.

Sion married Elizabeth Watts. (Short narration about DAR done by A.C. Harrington, compiler).

Patricia. I would be very interested. There was a Warren Harrington that came to Mississippi as I have a copy of a deed from Anson County, N.C. Courthouse where he had an attorney represent him to sell some land while he was in Mississippi. It seems Warren is in a lot of the Church Records, and seemed to be somewhat of a rascal. That is the best kind because you get a little more info on them than you do the others. I did not trace him into Mississippi; however, know him to be a brother of my g'g'g' grandfather, John Harrington who stayed in Anson/Union County, N.C. By an et al deed it is known that Warren married a Lilly Birmingham. Deed Book 16 Page 98 Brown Creek shows: STATE OF MISSISSIPPI: County of Lauderdale County, and it verifies that Warren delivered the foregoing power of Attorney to his Attorney, John Broadway in the county of Anson, N.C. Warren had a daughter Elizabeth Harrington who is believed to have married Peter May. Peter & Warren were originally brother in laws thru the Birmingham marriages; however, Peter's wife died and he married an Elizabeth Harrington. There was an approximate 15 years difference in their age. This is not a proven fact; however, and if you find anything on a Peter May and Elizabeth it would help to make the thoughts a little more binding.

PREFACE

A few years ago, when my pace of living began to slow down, I took time to look back on the days of my childhood, growing up in southern Mississippi at the turn of the century. As I tried to recall events, people, places and dates of those years, I realized how hazy my memory had become. Why hadn't I listened more carefully to the stories my grandmother and my parents had told about their early lives, and why hadn't I thought to record them?

Born in 1897 on a farm near the town of Wiggins, Mississippi, I lived there for nearly three years before my family moved into the town in late 1899. From that time until my marriage in 1922, Wiggins was my home base. After my marriage I went to Chicago to live, and gradually became absorbed in an entirely new life style, letting the Mississippi memories fade into the background. My father's death in 1923, and later my mother's decision to make her home with us in the North, both helped to estrange me from my southern past. Realizing how I had cheated myself as well as my children and grandchildren, I began my attempt to make amends. I was surprised at how many memories I could pull back into consciousness. Recounting them to my offspring brought many questions from them, and so this history began to take shape.

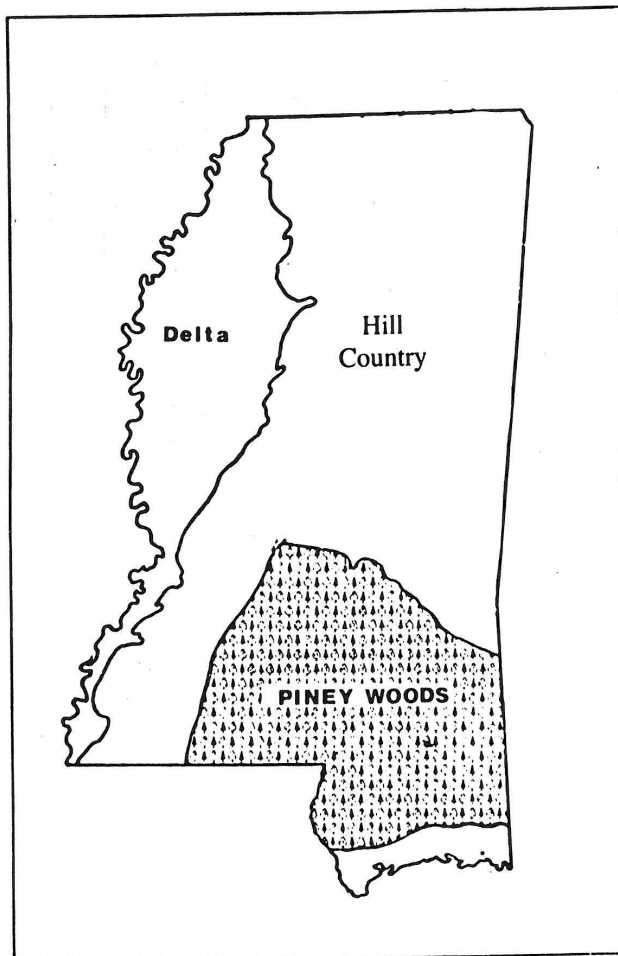

I wish I could list the names of all the relatives and friends who have helped. I will not even try for fear of leaving someone out. However, I want to take this opportunity to thank each one of them. I should add, that even with all that help, had it not been for the constant prodding and frequent editing of my older daughter, Jean King, this would have never reached the printers.

Although my brothers and sisters are no longer living, many of their descendants, I am delighted to say, are interested in the project, and want copies of the book. I hope this means that the younger generations will be inspired to keep records of their own families, and perhaps delve even further into the past.

As the tempo and style of modern living tend to scatter families far and wide, the knowledge of family roots helps to knit together the fabric of our existence, giving it meaning and security.

The Regions of Mississippi

I.

PROLOGUE

When our ancestor, Lt. Col. John Bond, Jr. migrated westward from Georgia in the early 1800's, he settled in what is now southern Mississippi. At that time it was a part of the Mississippi Territory, which also included the present state of Alabama. A few years after his arrival, the Territory was divided, and on December 10, 1817, the western half became the state of Mississippi, much of which was inhabited by Indians at the time.

At present, the state can be roughly divided into four sections:

First, The Delta, land along the Mississippi River, rich with alluvial soil. Here before the Civil War the wealthy cotton planters lived in their mansions, with numerous slaves to wait on them and work on their plantations. At that time the towns of Natchez and Vicksburg were bustling with river traffic, and that was the richest section of the nation. It continues to this day to be the land of cotton, but lacks the glamour of the past.

Second, the Hill Country, situated in the northeastern part of the state, between the Delta and the Alabama state line. This area was inhabited by the Creek Indians before the white settlers arrived and began clearing the land for farming. Today there are many large farms and cattle ranches, a King Ranch among them. It was in this area during the last half of the nineteenth century that the first state institutions of higher learning were established: the Uni-

Our young friend Colan McSwain, has been elected a member of the board of supervisors by a handsome majority. Mr. McSwain is the right man in the right place.

Circuit court closed last Saturday and was well attended. Only sixteen cases disposed of and a heavy docket left behind. A special term is spoken of. Will we have it? We heard that our friend P. K. was on hand, but we did not have the pleasure of meeting him.

Mr. T. Generally has just purchased the Monsabert place and has commenced improvement on same. Mr. Generally is a good acquisition to the Bay, he is a popular and well-known merchant of the firm of A. Oliver & Co., of New Orleans. Mr. G. intended to reside in his new home six months of the year.

On a petition signed by many of our best and most prominent citizens, our worthy and popular sheriff, Mr. David Moye, has appointed Mr. O. H. McShan special deputy sheriff for the town of Bay St. Louis. Mr. McShan is worthy of the honor conferred upon him and has already entered on the discharge of his duties and will make war on all evil doers of our beautiful little summer resort.

OBITUARY.

HERRINGTON—Died at his home in Jackson county, of congestive fever, John Milton Herrington, aged 55 years and 9 months.

Papa confessed faith in Christ when quite young. He joined the Baptist church at an early age, of which he was a consistent member until the time of his death. During a part of his illness of seven days, he was in a confused state of mind; but he was all the time talking about Christ and Heaven and its eternal happiness. Yes, dear papa is gone to join his beloved wife and children who have already reached the golden shore, and if those of his dear ones that he has left on this side will be faithful to the end, we feel assured that we shall meet them in the "sweet by and by," where death cannot rob us of our dear ones whom we so much love. Therefore let us not mourn as those who have no hope, for the Master has said, "It is appointed unto men once to die." Again, "Blessed are the dead that die in the Lord, from henceforth ye, saith the spirit, that they may rest from their labors."

Soon with the saints in glory,
The grateful song he'll raise,
And chant his blissful story,
In high seraphic days.
Free grace redeeming merit,
And sanctifying love;
Of father, son and spirit,
He'll sing in realms above.

HIS DAUGHTER LAURA BELL.

Dear Grady:

I opened Volume III of For Dixie Land I'll Take My Stand, a Muster Listing of All Known Mississippi Confederate Soldiers, Sailors and Marines, N-Z, and carefully inspected Volume IV which is a wonderful collection of pictures that I looked at for a long time. Then I indexed Volume III to Volume IV so I could tell who you have pictures of. Both books are well bound and lie open easily--this is not an idle comment because I once worked in book production at the University of Michigan Press.

When I first looked at your book of pictures I thought to tell you about Tim Burgess and the collection of pictures in the Carter Museum, but I see that some of the pictures came from Tim so he has probably sent you copies of all those Mississippians posted in the museum.

Carnton and the Confederate Cemetery

I may have told you that our daughter Nancy J. King (married to Timothy Babb) has been on the faculty of Vanderbilt Law School since 1990 and served for two years as Associate Dean. So I am frequently visiting in Nashville, the last time for Grandparents' Chocolate Day at Harding Academy on December 17. Then I visited Carnton and the Confederate Cemetery with the King/Babb family for the nth time. Surprisingly that weekend Martin's grave alone of the 1500 other graves was decorated with a plastic-covered message of good wishes to Corporal Martin

Bond and large artificial flowers. I don't know who would have done it and only for him?

It had been some years since I had visited Carnton, though I often visit the cemetery as do my grandchildren. It is a regular 4th grade trip for Harding, the private school they both attended. The guides at Carnton now tell us that after the battle the McGavocks moved out of the house as it was turned into a hospital for amputations. They tell us the family stayed on the top story of an adjacent building. When I was last there before there were blood stains showing on the floor of only one second-floor room. Now much more paint has been stripped off the floor and every second-room floor shows blood stains some in the outlines of bottoms of buckets.

Preston Bond

I think I have another picture for you, Preston Bond, brother of Wilkin and Martin in a suit made by Pres's mother Lydia Nelson Bond (Russel's wife). I suspect she also made the three suits in the Bonds' picture on your page 31. Pres's picture that I can find is one of 5 in the Bond family found on a large piece of paper in the house Polly Ann homesteaded at Lyman, a copy of which was sent to me by my cousin, Bill Lowery. Pres, the youngest boy in the family, served in the 5th Battalion.

Alma Hickman (one of mother's mentors) once wrote a short story about searching the swamps towards the end of the War for a 16-year-old being helped by his family to avoid service towards the end of the War. It's very well written. If you want a copy of it I look for it.

Pres Bond's house (turned 90 degrees from its original orientation) is on Highway 49 just north of Wiggins near the town of Bond. (There is a picture of the house in my mother's book.) My grandmother Sarah Lydia Herrington (born 1868) attended school in Pres's house with several other children of her age, including, I think, Willard F. Bond, later Superintendent of Mississippi schools.

Pres survived the War along with his sisters Nellie, Mary (Polly) Ann Bond (my great-grandmother), Kizzie, and Delphi (Adelphia). Their brothers Wilkin & Martin in the Third Mississippi did not. Pres Bond applied for a pension and I have sent for a copy of his application.

Martin & Wilkin Bond

As you know, Martin with Company H of the Third Mississippi Infantry was killed on the battlefield at Franklin and Wilkin of the same company was wounded there. I don't know which of the 41 house/hospitals in Franklin he was in but like your ancestor he was taken prisoner on December 17 (or thereabouts) when the Confederates had to abandon their wounded as they retreated from Nashville and south through Franklin. I don't think he was hospitalized at Carnton because that house may have been used exclusively for amputations and there never has been a hint that Wilkin had a limb amputated. (He may have gone to Camp Chase via Louisville. That was the way my great-grandfather John Milton Herrington of the Live Oak Rifles was sent after being wounded in the left hip at Franklin and also the way Cephas Bond.) Wilkin died at Camp Chase of variola in March 1865 just before the end of the War. Having read that on Aunt Grace's UDC application, I found out that variola is an old name for smallpox. (I have also encountered the noun "varioid.") Typical of a country boy not to have been vaccinated although vaccinations against smallpox had been available at least in U.S. cities since the late 1794..

I once recalled that my mother had told me that her half-sister Grace (daughter of Delphi and my grandfather Herrington) was a member of the UDC. Grace married a judge in Alabama and I think my mother thought the UDC application was part of Grace's efforts to raise her own social status. (I remember being told something about fox hunting as part of that family's life style.) I have had trouble getting in touch with the UDC (and it always seems to be the weekend when I go through Richmond) but some years ago I send a copy of mother's book to them as a lagniappe and asked them to send me copies of Aunt Grace's application. They did. That's how I first found out about Wilkin and Franklin and Wilkin's death by variola at Camp Chase, Ohio, none of which I had ever heard of. As a matter of fact I thought until then that you had to be a direct descendant of a veteran to join the UDC, which of course upon reflection would make no sense since a large portion of the soldiers were unmarried 17-year-olds.

Much later I found Martin's, Russel's, and Wilkin's picture marked on the back with a label pasted by my grandmother which you printed in your book on the 3rd Mississippi.

That was before Nancy moved to Nashville so when she did I drifted to Franklin on my first visit, never expecting to find Martin's grave. To my surprise I found "M. Bond" listed in the booklet based on Mrs. McGavock's handwritten list of the soldiers buried in the Confederate Cemetery which she and her husband gave two acres for.

As to Wilkin's grave at Camp Chase, I learned from a Civil War magazine that there was going to be a re-enactment at Camp Chase, Ohio, at a time I was driving south anyway. (I couldn't figure out how they would do a reenactment in a cemetery which is all that is left of Camp Chase.) But I went and found Wilkin's grave. One of the speakers at that re-enactment mentioned that in the 1890's (and maybe before and after) railroad carloads of flowers were shipped to Camp Chase cemetery from Southern families, probably on Memorial Day. I am sure I am the first member of the family who has visited both Martin's and Wilkin's grave or maybe either grave.

At the Battle of Franklin reunion of descendants in 2002, I found three other women with ancestors who were sent to Camp Chase. Apparently there was a smallpox section of the camp to which at least one prisoner, not ill with smallpox, was sent as punishment. That must have been the section of the prison where Wilkin died. We four women have formed a "Camp Chase caucus" among the Franklin descendants.

Cephas Bond

Cephas Bond, also of Company H of the 3rd Mississippi, was a much younger brother of my great-great-grandfather Russel (don't know which is his spelling is Russel or Russell; I have seen it both ways). Lou Anderson's Bond genealogy says Cephas is found in the records as Seaford, Seaborn, Josephus, and Seaphus. His father was Lt. Colonel John Bond whose descendants (including Cephas's) have a reunion each year on the Sunday before Labor Day at Flint Creek Park near Wiggins. I have been attended it five times including 2002. According to Lou Anderson's mammoth book on the Bonds, Cephas enlisted as a Confederate soldier on October 8, 1861 at Pass Christian. He was wounded at Franklin and taken prisoner on December 14, 1864. He was transferred from Franklin to Louisville, then to Camp Chase, and then to Pt. Lookout, Maryland, and was released on June 9, 1865 after taking the Oath of Allegiance. On June 14, 1865, he was sent from the Provost Marshall General, Washington, D.C. to Harrison County, MS.

Lou Anderson writes that family legend says that money was not provided and that Cephas walked (or managed (for horseback transportation) the entire way home. (I didn't think money was ever provided for Confederates to return home at the end of the War.) Ms. Anderson writes that Cephas never recovered from the Civil War wounds and remained in poor health after the War, taking his life with a shotgun about 1906, according to his widow's application for a pension.

John Milton Herrington

As to John Milton Herrington (my great-grandfather) as a Confederate soldier, it is family tradition supported by your book To Live and Die in Dixie, by documents from microfilm at the Pascagoula library from the Mississippi State Archives, and by his second wife Mary E. Herrington's application for a widow's pension, and from page 386 of your book that he was a member Company A of the Third Mississippi, the Live Oak Rifles (which figures since the Herrington place was in Jackson County at its northern border with George County by the confluence of Red and Black Creeks) and that he was wounded at Franklin in the left hip. The documents and the application state he was sent to Camp Chase. (Mary Herrington refers to it as Camp Chase, Maryland. If, like Cephas, John Milton was sent from Camp Chase, Ohio, to Pt. Lookout, Maryland, in making out her pension application 60 years later Mary Herrington may have blended the two locations.)

The family history comes from my first cousin Elizabeth Sulteen, daughter of Bess who was my mother's half sister. Bess like my mother was a granddaughter of John Milton. Bess told her daughter Elizabeth that her daddy (C. A. Herrington) told her he remembers his father coming home from the War, limping, perhaps walking up a long road toward the house. (A long road lined on both sides with trees--or am I confusing that with Gone With the Wind?) C. A., John Milton's youngest child and only boy, remembered that when his sisters sighted John Milton a long way off and recognized their father they started crying and he didn't understand why they were crying. Daddy was coming home and to this 11-year-old boy that was no reason to cry!

John Milton was walking home from Camp Chase unless he had been sent to another prisoner of war camp as Cephas was. Why his papers are John C. and we know him as John Milton, I don't know, but it is the same person.

On page 554 of your book he is listed in the Live Oak Rifles.

John Milton subsequently became a justice of peace in Jackson County and held other public offices. His first wife was Phoebe Jones and after she died he married Mary Byrd Fairley, "widow" of Matthew W. Fairley. The Fairley place apparently adjoined the Herrington place near the confluence of the creeks. It seems that Matthew was also a Live Oak Rifle and you list him as M. W. Fairley. Mary Fairley was apparently, at least after the War, an annoying, abrasive, critical, and irritating woman, no fun to live with or have visit. There are a lot of Fairleys still left around Wiggins and Jackson County so the family history is alive and well among them and the O'Neals. My cousin Arl O'Neal of Wiggins told me that a lot of people think Matthew wasn't killed, "he just took off." (Still talking about 1865 as if it was yesterday! This is as close as I have come to Faulkner's comment that in the South "the past isn't dead, it isn't even past.") Two O'Neals married into the Herrington and the Fairley families and this is probably where Arl got the comment.

Arl also told me that in the middle of the War there was a crisis in the Fairley family, Sarah Belle was sick and about to die, when Confederates came to bring Matthew Fairley to be a soldier. He pleaded to be left at home until the crisis was over but the men who came for him refused to allow him the time.

John Milton Herrington is buried in a very small three-grave family cemetery just off an old logging road in what were once heavy woods on land now used for hunting. Since I first saw the graves International Paper has clear cut the land but fortunately not immediately around the graves. The little graveyard is near where the Fairley place would have been and the first burial there was of Sarah Belle Fairley, a daughter of Matthew and Mary Byrd Fairley who died in 1863 during the War. (It must have been her approaching death which Matthew pleaded when he didn't want to go with the soldiers.) The graveyard is near the junction of Black and Red Creeks and I once saw there a sign on a board that said "Herrington Landing." It is no longer there.

Arl said that in the 1880's one of John Milton's daughters (I think Aunt Eliza Herrington O'Neal, Arl's grandmother) put a tombstone (engraved for John Milton) in a wagon and drove it cross country to mark her father's grave. It must have been a very rough and bumpy trip. She left a road where Highway 49 now is and drove the wagon across bumpy fields to Jackson County. I needed Arl to help me find the tiny cemetery because rutty and muddy back roads have to be traversed and they are full of holes and but Arl is gone now. He died on December 23, 1999. He was, like me, a great-grandchild of John Milton.

Mary Herrington is buried in another cemetery on flat land near a field which Arl showed me. She applied for a widow's pension on John Milton's record and I got a copy of her application from the Pascagoula Library genealogy section. Mary died in 1928.

Cincinnatus Abernathy Herrington

My grandfather Herrington was killed in December 1923, three months before I was born. He was called "Nat" in Wiggins. He was driving his truck across the Gulf & Ship Island tracks near McHenry when his truck was hit by a train he didn't hear coming.

My mother said he often talked about his fear as a young boy of the Yankee cavalry who rode across Mississippi from Baton Rouge in December 1864 in Davidson's raid. They had been sent to cut Hood's supply lines on the northbound Mobile & Ohio railroad in Alabama close to the Mississippi border. When the Yankee cavalry reached the Pascagoula River in December 1864 it was too flooded to cross, even by ferry, so they went down the west side of the river to the Gulf Coast. They rode through the Ramsay place, the O'Neal place, and many other farms and homes.

The Yankees in Mississippi were sending boys and old men as prisoners to Fort Massachusetts on Ship Island in the Gulf. C.A. was 11 years old. As the Yankees reached the Herrington place, C.A. hid in his family's corn crib which had pumpkins piled close to the roof. Scared to death, he stayed there during the raid without making a sound while the pumpkins dropped on his head ("Plump, plump, plump"). In later life he told this story often. By the time my mother heard the story 35 years later, Nat made it sound very funny.

Arl had a Davidson's raid story which I never wrote down because I thought we would have a lot more time together so I remember it only in outline. His O'Neal ancestors (a set of brothers) were not enthusiastic about the War and didn't serve. Whether they hid out in swamps I was never sure. They constituted themselves a "Home Guard" and rescued at least one woman whose house had just been entered by Yankee raiders. The O'Neal brothers had spotted the cavalrymen's horses tied up to her porch rail.

My mother's high school classmate Walline Skoglund Batson toldus the story of her grandmother Ramsay who sewed her silverware in the hems of her skirt and moved her feet slowly and carefully in tiny flat sliding steps so the Yankees wouldn't hear the silver clink.

There is another family's tale of the raid in Four Centuries on the Pascagoula. I wanted to gather more of these stories but it's hard to do it without Arl.

William Dallas Cruthirds

According to my great-grandmother's application for a pension my great-grandfather William Dallas Cruthirds rode with Forrest. In Mary (Polly) Ann Bond's application for a widow's pension from Stone County she says he did. I have sent for a copy of the original application.

William Cruthirds was in the 15th Confederate Cavalry (not a Mississippi unit) which was apparently under Forrest's command. He would have been 17 at the beginning of the War in 1861. I found a lot of microfilmed military records on him in the Pascagoula library but they were not too informative.

He is buried in a little family cemetery of Cruthirds and Sweatmans off Cowan Road north of Pass Road near Bayou Bernard, carefully walled off from a new subdivision. It is near Handsboro and very near where the location of the old Cruthirds homestead which no longer stands. William died of pneumonia in 1872 at the age of 28 leaving my great-grandmother Polly Ann Bond Cruthirds (later Eldridge) to care alone for three little children, my grandmother Sarah Lydia Cruthirds, born in 1868 and then 4 years old, Bill (age 3), and Wash (age 1). Polly Ann would leave my grandmother in charge of her two young brothers and go out in the fields to work, but the four-year-old couldn't manage the toddler and the baby.

Thus Polly Ann Bond Cruthirds wasn't able to make it alone and moved back to Wiggins (not so named yet) to live with her mother and father Russel and Lydia Nelson Bond. From the five years she spent as a child in the Russel Bond house my grandmother remembered her grandmother Lydia as rather sour and angry. Now that I know Lydia Bond had lost her two oldest sons, 4-1/2 months and 1 month before the end of the War, I think she must have been very depressed by their deaths to say nothing of the effect on the formerly well-off family from the hard struggle to survive in Reconstruction. (Once during World War II I got a heartfelt lecture from my Grandma about the sufferings of an occupied country when I bemoaned the capture of Paris by the Germans which had occurred the day before.)

I don't believe Polly Ann Bond Cruthirds's second husband Napoleon Bonaparte Eldridge was a war veteran. She married him in about 1877. In about 1894 he shot himself in his house at Lyman, Mississippi, a house that Polly Ann had homesteaded. It was on the old road north from the Gulf (can't remember the name of the road right now). In 1924 long after her second husband's death, Polly Ann Bond (Cruthirds) Eldridge applied for a pension on the basis of William Cruthird's record. It was remarkable that Polly Ann married two men after the Civil War when there was a severe shortage of men in the South.

Napoleon B. Eldridge died in when his daughter Aunt Nell Eldridge (later Lowery, my grandmother's half-sister) was 14. She discovered him dead in his bedroom when she brought him his morning coffee. The new owners of that house have heard and felt a ghost in that room and Nell's son Oscar Lowery and I were mesmerized by their stories a few years ago when we visited them in the newly redecorated house.

What is your next book project?

P.S. I am reading Rebel Private: Front and Rear: Memoirs of a Confederate Soldier (Meridian, 1997) by William A. Fletcher, a footsoldier in Hood's Texans and a horseman in Terry's Texas Rangers. I bought it in Gulfport on December 27, 2000, when I was in Mississippi for Arl's funeral. Have you seen it? The back cover says Shelby Foote calls it "the best account I know of."

P.P.S. I came to Mississippi again January 9 and 10, 2000, for the 185th celebration of the Battle of New Orleans in which Lt. Col. John Bond fought under Andy Jackson with a company he had formed from his Bond relatives. He may not have reached the battle site at Chalmette but might have been part of the militia that were needed to guard against British penetration of the numerous rivers bayous emptying into the Gulf on the Louisiana coast.
